

CodeReader Asian Vehicle Coverage

This vehicle coverage list is designed to give you an INDICATION of the CodeReader™ vehicle system coverage. The CodeReader™ is NOT model specific and therefore will read codes from many other models not listed below. Please use this as a guide. If you have a specific model / year of vehicle that does not appear on the list, you can contact us at support@rennacs.com to see if the CodeReader™ will read the codes for that vehicle system or whether we can add it to the CodeReader™ software for you.

A - Automatic Fault Code Retrieval (where fitted)

Coming Soon - Planned CodeReader / UniPlug software development for the next 12 months

- - System Not Fitted to Vehicle by the vehicle manufacturer

M - Manual Code entry

UniPlug - A unique piece of hardware sold separately to the CodeReader and required to read serial LiveData and Serial Codes as well as OBD2 / EOBD. UniPlug software is only available for the Handheld CodeReader system at present. UniPlug software is sold as separate modules.

Engine & A/Trans with OBD2 / EOBD style plug - Some Engine and A/Trans systems may require the UniPlug system depending on where in the world the vehicle was assembled. For example they may be OBD2 if assembled in the USA after 1996 or in Europe after 2001. If the vehicle was assembled in Japan (even up to 2004) then it is unlikely to be OBD2 even though it has the OBD2 style plug, because the Japanese do not require OBD2 / EOBD in their country. The CodeReader WILL read codes from these vehicles as well.

Please note: The purpose of this Asian vehicle coverage list above is to give you an indication of the CodeReader Asian vehicle coverage, and to give you a method from which you can compare the CodeReader vehicle coverage to other products on the market.

Because the CodeReader is NOT model specific it will read codes from MANY other vehicles not in the above list. The CodeReader works off the type of diagnostic system fitted to the vehicle, not the model of the vehicle.

The CodeReader AUTOMATICALLY determines the differences between diagnostic code systems and gives you the correct codes. This means that you can have confidence that a differently badged model vehicle in your country will still work with the CodeReader.

We have made every effort to ensure the above vehicle coverage list is accurate, however due to some difference between international markets we take no responsibility that the years and code coverage are completely accurate. Please use this list as a general guide.
